ScrumfyAircraftkiller Making fun of death in the way you're doing it is a dispicable action. I only hope that if you or your friends or family end up being in a position where death is possibly imminent, that you don't get the same treatment you're giving out.

Aircraftkiller: I'd actually kill you

Aircraftkiller: Just put a knife into that nice little artery on the side of your throat and rip it upward towards your face, severing any vital connections between your brain and your spine

Aircraftkiller: Though I'd feel sorry that I had to do that to anyone.

Aircraftkiller: Enjoy the mental imagery, I'm sure you'll find a way to use it somewhere.

Hmm...

Anyway, I'm done here. There has to be a better way to handle the original reason for the topic.

That's not making fun of death. That's threatening to kill you, which was an outburst due to the fact that you felt it necessary to accuse me of cheating, to which you later knew you were wrong about.

Especially considering the entire reason you thought I was cheating was that you said "you never said who you were," even though I announced "okay this is Aircraftkiller using a different name, I'm trying to avoid being DDoSed offline by Ty"

:rolleyes:

If you were there, I wouldn't have killed you... But I would have punched you in the face, several times.

Why do you need someone else to blame for your own actions? You know you were in the wrong to make fun of his illness, regardless of what he did before.

It just shows me that you're a manipulative sack of shit. Not only do you lie to people (hey, like the time you played friends with Taximes and I just to get things from us! Sound familiar, asshole?) like you accuse xptek of doing, but you also play with emotions and decieve them maliciously.

Yes, if I did meet you in real life, I would fuck you up bad for what you've done to people before. There's a line I draw between "your mod sucks and I want to destroy it" and "I'm going to play with people's feelings and see how much fun it is to play witch doctor with their lives."
