FUD being reported over and over again on n00bstories doesn't mean much. Hell, I've got nearly as many n00bstories about me as Taskbot has about him. And the only ones that are actually true are the ones I wrote myself

On their "goodbye" speech, one FUD member (I forget who) said it didn't matter that they were despised because they were despised by idiots (The community). In a similar vein, when players like IceSword7 or myself are said to "suck" by players as unskilled as FUD, it actually makes us realise we aren't that bad after all.
