Sanada78Thank god we don't get any of them here...

All we have are little Red ants. They still sting but it's usually just an irritating itch, like from a stinging nettle plant. They're not really that aggressive either, unless you provoke them or lye in the garden grass.

LOL, and while I was writing this, I got attack by a moth.

Yeah i hated red ants when i was small, b4 they got me soo pissed i put some gas on it and burned the fuck out of them... the next day they were back .

PointlessAmblerDaddy-long-legs are harmless.

I heard there was a poisonus breed among us
