spoonyratI don't disagree this thread became spam a while ago.

Although, just to check something, I just joined the Fud haclens server as CEspoony without changing my IP and was not banned.

That's actually a different server. Mine's down now because I graduated & had to move out of the dorms. I thought they had copied my banlist over, though.... how curious...

Anyway, I've still got a copy of the banlist from back before I shut the server down. I'm curious to know if your current IP is the same as the one on the banlist.... But I don't think it would be appropriate to simply post your IP in a public forum.... I guess I could PM it to you. If I do that, will you check to see if it's the same?
