AircraftkillerIf detonated manually, it will not harm friendly units. If destroyed by an enemy, it will light up any unit around it. It is an efficient infantry killer, almost all soldiers within its blast radius will die.

So, who will get the kill points of any soldiers killed in a non-manual detonation?

Does it kill people through walls that are inside structures?

If you are killed driving one, I can imagine these nukes exploding near an enemy base and getting 12 'boinks' where it wipes out every trace of infantry.
