Then have someone else sit in the channel & wait till you join, tell them to type !auth nick & it'll auth you, I only run mIRC with Ren when I need to, even though my laptop does kinda suck & I only get about 50-60FPS with an ATI Radeon 340M graphics card & only 256MB RAM :rolleyes: Also, I don't care how my script looks, it's what I use & it's 100% functional, & if it works how I want it to then it's fine.

Besides, that script's on my other comp (which doesn't have internet access due to missing driver files), not my laptop, on my laptop I have auto respond scripts for various servers/channels
