Who was the idiot who thought up "deezer studios?"

That's like a blatant ripoff of "Deez Nuts" and "DeeZire." I don't even see how you're a studio. Most of you haven't met, don't know each other well, and have a hard time working together as a team to make the public think you know what you're doing.

Why do you think your forum is pretty dead compared to most others? Before you go moving that RA2 thing over to deez nuts, you ought to get your problems fixed.
