You do realize that all you have to do to get a wol password is run brute force on the name, get the encrypted password, and then decrypt it...(Yes, it's that easy) Also, the identify p/w's fastc0nn had for the mods...Anyone who had access to the admin channel can get those...meaning all mods can see all the p/w's. Anyone of them could've leaked them out, plus "trusted" people were allowed into the admin channel before it was locked. You guys, as usual, are looking WAY to into this...AuDi is picked on more than anyone else, always wrongfully charged. Lighten up. Threats are made by just about everyone, this does not mean they're true, get over it.
