Cpo64There is more then 2 out comes to a war, as I have already stated. The goal of the War of 1812 was dominion over all of North America, (called Manifest Destiny or something like that,) You did not achieve that, your White House was set afire, Canada and the UK invaded New England, we withdrew because we did not want it, signed a peace treaty, we won, you lost.

The War of 1812 happened because Britain kept bullying the US. The US got fed up and invaded Canada(british territory), got pushed back by Britain, and the war went on for three years. Britain and the US finally came to an understanding, signed a treaty, and Britain stopped trying to push around the US. So by your definition the US won the War of 1812.
