Drkpwn3rYea, the same happened to me

For now I'll be stuck using game2.exe I guess :rolleyes:

The problem is, i want to play on renguard only servers, because i dont trust any of the non renguard servers, to many people using bones.ini....

Thats the thing, up until today, ive ran renguard perfectly fine with no errors, and even was on lastnight, and no errors..

So between lastnight and this morning, someone seems to have either tampered with my settings, or something more serious is going on here..

I even made sure my firewall was completly off, and it still tells me that im getting the firewall errors.

Well i guess i dont know what to do, other then to just wait for someone who works with renguard to respond.
