No offense, WNx. On your server you can kick or ban for what reason whatsoever. Please understand though, that I m a little bit angry.

I am really a fair player who normally wants to communicate with the teammates. Sometimes thats difficult because of language problems. But thats the way it is: we are living in Europe.

I really tried to talk in english and if you check the logs you can see it. But there were some players online who obviously couldnt understand. So I switched to german (if you want I could also talk in french). I received a "ok" from my teammates and we were able to organise our defense.

2 minutes later I was kicked by a mod just because I was talking in german. I was one of the last tanks and I think that was rather unfair.

I apologize for being a little bit rude afterwards. Lets play again without resentiments.
