The model is good.

The texture needs work. The metallic texture on the main body of the sub is too blurry and doesn't have much detail. No scratches, no worn-out metals, no rust, no battle marks from before. Models always look much better with details like those added. Try fixing that up and it will look much better.

the 3 rods on the top look like they were just white cylinders. The sams are not bad, they look good.
