Aircraftkillerwarranto Make the game as it was intended. If need be, perhaps you can get "official" support from former members in how the levels were supposed to be.

Why do you think I'm with BHS?

I didn't doubt that, but I was meaning more along the lines of paid personnel. Sure you worked with them, but in the eyes of the majority of the community, their word that something should be changed would have more worth than your word.

I don't mean this as an insult, simply a matter of fact.
