Hey, i just came back from canada and i would like to say it is a great place. The only problems i see in canada is the massive amount of smoking, but other than that it looks like a great place to live. While i was coming back from canada i was remembering that havocman TS incident that happened over a year ago. Does any one still have the audio from the incident? With my cable modem i can download anything XD. I sure love my cable modem.
