Is anyone else having problems playing on GameSpy with Renguard? It tries to restart the game and I get the "Renguard already running" message. I think Renguard is a great thing and I am grateful for those who've spent many hours on this. It would be nice if you could toggle it on or off!
Thanks

The reason it does this, is when you are done playing, RenGuard will show you information about the server you just finished playing on. It will be really cool.
