Last thing I need is some public customer support going to shit, because there program is going to be essential to this game and if you aint going to keep ti worknig 24/7 fuck it.

Our "public customer support" is going to shit because we didn't answer your rude post within 4 minutes? The best outlet for support is our live chat -- irc.n00bstories.com, channel #renguard_support.

crimson why do you help people like this.. people who lack the intellegence to ask for help properly, people who put down renguard/ the team becuase they have had 1 problem iwould just lock thier threads and ignore them until they ask properly

i would, but that's not proper customer service. you will change people's opinions by acting nice even while they bitch. If they don't change their opinions, oh well, you know you helped them out even though they were rude.

We're not going to shit... not anytime soon. We're waiting for jonwil to wake up to troubleshoot these problems. Those in IRC will get first dibs.
