Ok this really works! All you have to do is write an email like descibed below.

For this to work you must provide an existing nickname and a VALID email address which was used to CREATE this nickname with.

If you are unsure if you used a valid email adres, or if you just want to make sure everything is cool.

The best is to just create a new hotmail account and use this new email to create a new nick for WOL:

Create a new Hotmail Account

Create a new WOL nickname

Once you created a new nickname you will not receive a confirmation email from EA/Westwood Studios.

However, you CAN start using this nickname right away by just signing in with it on WOL.

Now you should goto westwood's renegade FDS serials page:

Request a Serial for the new nick & email

The Serial EMailer is working again so what follows below is not neccesary anymore (maybe when its broke again lol).

When you completed requesting a serial for your just new created nick you must email to EA Technical Support as follows:

Email to: support31@ea.com

Email Subject: FDS Serials, Richard A.

In your email your write this:

Login used to request a FDS Serial: Nick you used to request the serial with.

Email attached to this nick: the email you used(MUST BE VALID!!)

Enter some nice words here, thanks you godlike master of renegade etc..

Regards, yourname.

Now send your email. You should receive a response pretty quickly that he will look at your request and then after a few days up to a week after you should receive new FDS Serials.

Enjoy your new serials soon,

[zunnie]

Hello

Thank you for contacting me. I am contacting you regarding your Renegade FDS serial number. Your email address did not have a serial number attached to it. Could you try registering again, then let me know. <http://renegadeserver.westwood.com>

Also resend the email address and the login. Make sure they are spelled correctly. I apologize for the inconvenience.

Thank you for contacting Electronic Arts Online Support and please feel free to respond if any of the suggestions I made do not work,

Richard A.
EA Technical Support

you also need to request the serial for the nick

I got this one when I sent into the support email.

Hello

Thank you for contacting me. We are still looking into this issue. The server used to send out these email is functioning. However some people have not received their numbers.

Make sure your email account is not blocking any emails from YourRenegadeFDSSerial@westwood.com. Also, try creating a Westwood account with a different email address.

There is a chance we can get your number. Go ahead and send me the following information:

Login used to get a number:

Email the login is attached to:

Click here to submit the above information

<http://eatech.custhelp.com/cgi-bin/eatech.cfg/php/enduser/ask.php?>

Be sure to include FDS at the beginning of the subject line.

I will have to manually request it. Once I have a serial number I will be emailing it to you. This could take as many as 4 days to process.

Richard A.

It looks like because so many people have emailed asking that they have stoped it or trying to stall users now,

I know of a couple people that have received the standard responce coming from EA support not Richard himself ./ so he maybe forwarding the emails now Realy? Who?

I know sending them to support31 will get you bounced. Like he said they are ttrying to close that box down. If you send it to the other link it should still get to him.

I hope I don't get on anybody's nerves regarding that FDS issue. This morning, I requested four FDS license keys here, and I got the automated e-mail reply with the license keys within approx. 2 hours. So I guess the e-mail function is back to normal and there is no need to go through EA Support .

PS: If you have any problems with WOL usernames, just register new ones. You can always use the program Register.exe in your Westwood\Internet folder.

Yeah, the serial emailer has been fixed by EA some time ago.

Before everyone had to email this guy their nicknames and emailaccounts they were asociated* with in order to get one.

Ah well lol. Either way: to get a serial you must have a nickname which is asociated* with a valid email address or you wont receive it

[zunnie]

* = Maybe wrongly spelled

Like my e-mail?

Login used to request a FDS Serial: a000000mc, a00000mc2, a00000mc3, a00000mc4,
Email attached to this nick: Afrog2@gmail.com

Login used to request a FDS Serial: a00000mc5, a00000mc6, a00000mc7, a00000mc8
Email attached to this nick: moddingteam.bot@gmail.com

Hello, I was requesting FDS Serial numbers for the eight (nicks above, and I get the following:

a000000mc FAILED All FDS Serial numbers have been allocated please contact Westwood Online Support.

Is there a reason why you are wanting us to contact you? Because most of the time, a generator creates something. In thise case, the generator is suppose to make FDS Serial numbers. Not hand out already made ones. And stupid errors like this set you as a bad habit. Now I don't like what you (EA) have done with Westwood. You basicly screwed up everything. It was fine before EA stepped in. I have only one game from EA. And it's C&C Renegade. The best game created by Westwood. Why can't you (EA) fix something to stay working? Why does it always go down? Why when I'm playing online, have to shut down Westwood Online (WOL)? I love the game, and here you are just screwing it up. There have been no matenance on anything for westwood online. And if you read this (Most likely you won't) I want you to fix the clan page. Why can't you just keep it? It need to have pictures and links you know. We can't read all black font on a black page. We tried to be nice to you. We tried as hard as we can. And we would like it to be so nice and updated. If you need, please get someone else on the job. Want to give me access to the clan page? I'll fix it up like it should be. Incase you forget what 'nice' looks like.

Regards, Timothy (Afrog2) Stoyanovski

P.S. It's broken, yet again.

Are they really looking into the FDS serials problem? I think they should also look at the Clans page, it doesn't work at the moment.
