Getting into a vehicle in first person mode. It's annoying as hell, especially with orca/apaches. Also, when you see someone else's vehicle "glitched" i.e. firing their repair gun while driving and shooting, is also a detriment to good gameplay because their tank jerks all over the place.

This might've already been looked at, I'm just wondering whether this is a fixable bug.

Oh, another one which might be fixable, when you're kicked from a server your chat messages get messed up. Makes it tricky to see your ban message for information on why you were evicted.

Here's a quick fix to that. Don't make people mad at you won't have to get kicked, thus not having to see an eviction message.

Not all servers run Renguard, and not all mods know what they're doing.
