Ok, I'm considering releasing a modified version of the input01.cfg that allows you to dodge ingame (works online too). Do you think this would be considered a cheat or not?

No: When everyone has it.

Yes: When only you have it and others don't.

So it's a cheat.

I'm getting the exact opposite on IRC. It doesn't present any real advantage, besides the coolness factor.

I wouldn't mind, it probably doesn't give that much of an advantage against an enemy havoc/sakura.

You double tap W/A/D/S and you do a little dodge move.

I find that that dodge crap does nothign good for you at all. It's just a pain in the ass to dodge when you're in a one on one fight.

Majiin Vegetawould like to see how this makes you flicker for the non host Yeah same for me.

If this dodging is in some way much like lagging around the corner of a rock shooting someone, then it should be disallowed for example.

But if this dodging is like in UT2K4's dodging, just a little fast jump sideways then maybe it should be allowed.

But the fact that not everybody has it makes it questionable.

As dodging if used properly offers an high adventage over players who dont use/ dont know how to use it.

same as jumping and strafing.....some people prefer to walk or run in striaght lines then bitch....Zunnie has a point, besides birdie killer (i mean xptek) If you used it on someone there is always the possibility of this; "OMFG WTF? BSBSBS I SO SHOT YOU WTF????? YOU CHEAT YOU CANT YOU FAG" see my point? It's alot of hassle if it gives an advantage to those who use it or have it.

There is also the possibility of a clash with Renguard, many things to consider i guess.

Here's a video of me using it on my server:

<http://www.jitterjunction.com/dodge.avi>

Keep in mind, it's not that fast, it's just fraps.

There is absolutely no flickering client or host side for either because the animation is present for both.

I think you need to kick the cheater from your server lol.

The score is 36000+ for Nod and 7600+ for GDI?

Liek omg! ??

But this dodging seems alright then.

Nice vid lol

you put it in the config folder thats in your data folder
C:/Westwood/Renegade/Data/Config/input01.cfg or something like that anyways.

Edit: I found it to be pretty laggy in servers. It does it sort of twice then warps you back to where you should be. On the plus side you can now hear people grunts as they die and you don't warp along the ground so much when you get killed (strange I know).

On any matter, I don't see how this could be considered a cheat, its exactly the same as crouching and walking in a direction, sept in this case you can't shoot. It doesn't even look cool, I was expecting a sholder roll, or something, but all it is, is your character ducking down swinging his arms around, and moveing in said direction, tho sometimes I could get them to do this little spin thing, but even that was dissapointing, so I went on a server and ran around the map swinging my arms around like an idiot. Strange thing was, no one said anything about it, I was dissapointed, eather they have seen it before, or they wern't able to see it at all.

I Noticed People dont say shit about it. I dilibrtilly try to get others to say wow how did you do that but they dont. I dont think they can see it I gave the file to my bro and watched him do it a few times on accident(earning me a headshot a few times) and i saw it fine.

Someone, add me to your buddy list (foxofts). I'm curious as to why people don't mention it either. Let's play a 2 player and see if we can see each other doing it. You might've seen your brother do it because you guys are on a LAN or because you have the toggle in your input01.

Also, I need a standard input01 becace I didn't back up my original. I'll use the standard (without the toggles) and see if I can see someone WITH them do it. Blazer, where abouts in the file do you add that line?

I tried it. Well personally it would be good if it was slightly quicker and didn;t do the double dodge as someone else mentioned.
