Our servrs are pretty much full during daytime.

But after 12am things change, then the n00bs come on online who dont have renguard yet.

Our server has been empty for over a week and was full about 80% of the time before loading Renguard, but today we had up to 10 players on our 20 person server so Renguard use is on the up. We have commited ourselves to a cheat free Renegade and appreciate all the Blackhand Studios has done for the game and will support Renguard for as long as we have to till about 100% servers are using the program. All I can think of is for everyone to b*tch to the admins of the servers you love to play on and complain daily of cheaters and try to find a server with Renguard on it so you know its a cheat free game.

Long live R E N G U A R D

We're releasing 1.03 very soon and once The Pits and Fastc0nn/RenStation switches to RenGuard-only, you should see a nice burst of participation.
