Bear in mind that I did nothing to cause this to happen! I do have a .dds file in my renegade directory from a simpsons loadscreen I was working on, but I have no freaking clue how it got mapped to random textures in the game. Pretty funny

I did an entire simpsons theme and released it over a year ago Totally changes the load screens and menu interface, as well as adds on to some of the ingame sounds

On Hourglass I've seen (empty) Stealth Tanks hanging high up in the sky in the back of the base

I can post a screenshot when I get home if you want.
