Don't know if anyone else has reported this yet but it has happened three times to me now. I'm playing the game, and suddenly it says you will be kicked because renguard is no longer active or something. When it happens to me some of the other people on the server get the same message and are kicked as well. It happened on different servers.

Any ideas?

The provider for one of our master servers went offline this afternoon for about 20-30 minutes. Anyone connected to it may have had this happen. We're sorry about that.
