You know what? I am sick and tired of all the shit going down lately between BC and BHS. What xptec did was WAY out of line by breaking the trust of BC and distributing their program. I for one feel that this is only going to open the door for more shit and both sides are going to regret things to come. xptec fired a nuke and now an all out war is going to start. If I was a mod/admin here I would ban xptec from here and put his IP(s) on the renguard ban list for theft. All those people that downloaded it should delete it and atleast show some respect for what has come out of BC like the sniper script.

I have had it with the little games being played here. I would have expected script kiddie games like this on a HL/CS forum... Not here.

I think I am done here. I am only going to return to read Kirby's story and thats about it. Maybe John (Hareman) is right about this place...

Sorry, I realized it was wrong and stopped giving it out. In total, only 10 people downloaded it anyway. To be honest I wasn't really happy about giving it in the first place. But peer pressure always wins.

BHS WASN'T INVOLVED IN THIS IN ANY WAY. We do not condone his actions and we were not aware of them either.

BHS plans to release a full statement after we have a meeting with BC.

So why are you faulting BlackHand Studios for actions that were done without our knowledge or consent by someone who's not on our staff?

Where was your outrage when BC tried stealing the RenGuard source code, or when they decided that it'd be fun to try and call Cisco to "fuck up Crimson and Blazer's life and get them fired?"

This is nothing compared to what they've done in the past to people here, and it's about time someone slapped the little bitches in the face. It may have been wrong, but that doesn't change the fact that they needed a wake up call.

If it had been me acting the way they did, I know all of you wouldn't have hesitated to say "go xptek get him!" Of course since it wasn't me being an asshole towards everyone and everything, trying to destroy lives and happiness, it's okay for BC to do it... But if someone does anything about it, they're wrong, and all of n00bstories is to blame.

Whatever. :rolleyes:

lol, i dont have a stance on this, yea it is wrong, but if they tried stealing the RG source code, and tried to get crimson and blazer fired (can't believe they would even have the balls to do that one) Then they kinda did have it coming.

I would like to commend ACK on almost a month of not being an asshole/smartass to everyone and being cool headed about just about everything. CONGRATS ACK

Here is one. Everyone shut the fuck up and get on with your lives. :rolleyes: What Vlotk did for Renegade is awesome. Hell I would love to see him script an illegal Starcraft mod for Renegade won't happen. Regardless the dynamic weather, crate, etc scripts were kick ass. BHS and the people in it also did good things. This is just like the fights between Israel and Palestine. :rolleyes:

No BC mod or admin called Cisco to get them fired. If someone did it wasn't anyone related to BC. Vlokt wanted Renegade's source code on the off chance BHS got it, NOT the Renguard source.

BC and BHS are on friendly speaking terms now. Hate us if you want, but we aren't going anywhere.

K9, please, reconsider leaving. They're helping to contain the leak, and we've forgiven everyone except for xptex.

As for those who think piracy software is ok because it was done to the "bad people", grow up.

I'll second that reckoning. Before people flame the "bad people" (talking here about both sides), just think about what Renegade could be if both worked together.

j4S[p]Can't we all just get along?

The problem is this is such a big community (and they say this game is dead ?????) and within communities are both individual and dynamic personalities, clashes are always going to happen. Whether the clashes are fueled and run through entire networks or just individuals is different.

People need to realize that all of this is nothing to do with n00bstories or BHS but between the network that was stolen from and the individual that did the stealing.

Ya im somewhat annoyed that X lied to me about leaving NS and all the other stuff he told me, and i really dont know if it was his intention to attempt what he did when he "left NS".

Im taking an impartial stance on this (as is my network) we niether condone nor comend the actions Xptek took. But the whole BS that has followed i.e the "you deserved it" "get him banned from his isp" etc and the continuing flame wars to come is a shame....

I think it maybe somewhat better if we just get on with our lives and let the parties involved deal with it however they see fit.

Have you ever woken up one morning and felt that things would never be the same they had been the day before? I woke up yesterday morning and felt sad. I felt saddened by the actions of so few affecting so many. I was disturbed by the lack of values that those responsible displayed by means of their actions. I felt betrayed because of the evil in our midst.

I fail to understand why xptec felt it to be ok to bring lies and deceit into the Renegade community. Whether I personally value BC or not, BC deserves my respect, my respect for their immense contributions to the Renegade community, just like Crimson and those around her. I have read many voices on the topic and heard their excuses: "BC did this, BC did that ..." "They deserved it ..."

All these excuses don't matter.

What matters is that I know what is right, and I know what is wrong. And if I am not sure, I look myself into my eyes and listen to my heart to find the truth. I hope that I will never dishonor myself the way xptec did when he chose his path.

By the way, in case people didn't get it, this was said with a bit of humor intended. I was infact agreeing with egg when he said that Renegade would be better if both worked together... Just in case that "your ALL retarded" comment was also directed at me.

I think it was directed at those who are dragging this out warranto.

Otherwise wouldnt he have said YOU are etc etc.....

Besides I got the gist of what you were saying.....But truthfully, the one and only thing that would make Renegade better is a reduction in bickering between networks and individuals.....Those who are new to everything either dont come back for the constant barrage of N00b...wtf? newbie (i've seen it happen) or the politics that they later discover / get dragged into / wish they hadnt asked. -the latter part being what happened with me....you dont get crap to this extent on the Euro server -

To be quite frankful, the only place i saw it happen alot less was in Black-cell....So they dont open public relations and keep to themselves and now you all know why, but whenever i was either in their servers or irc they never chastised someone for being new and never felt it neccessary to drag people into politics of why they hate this person, that server and that entire network.

I think if we cant do or say anything nice, we should just act ignorant of each other, (yeah i sound like my parents "if you cant say anything nice, dont say anything at all"...so shoot me.)
