Well, i got this idea today while connecting to WOL.

Is it possible to make sometiing simmlar to RenEvo`s Stats, but the Stats Image will display not only your stats, but are you running Renegade (are you logged on RenGuard Network).

How does it sound?

sounds like an idea but i would almost rather have a way to change the SN you are logged into renguard with to match your wol name you are using(like a drop box or something like that). it sucks having to go all the way into renegade change my name go back out then back in again.

I like the size of the RenEvo stats image (the new one that looks like a toolbar)...

It can show if you're logged in, and if you are, what server you're in. I think I can get your score and team and such too.

I'm referring to having multiple people play on your comp at home. my friend usually uses mine while i'm not here so when i get home i have to log into renegade, change the screen name to mine, exit all the way out of renegade and renguard, then log back in. It would be nice to have a Screen Name selection box so i can change it in renguard then in renegade when i get there.

Its based off the RenGuard 1June Design:

And here is a legend you could use (Font:Arial, Size:8)

Is it possible "Online" to be in green and "Offline" be in red and GDI and Nod be gold and red, if you are gonna make it?

Oh, i can beta-test if you are gonna make it i know the colour change idea is possible using basic PHP "if" statments.

I'll see what kind of stats image i can whip up

Hmm -- it looks like it was deliberately stretched. Pixelated. Great idea, but can you clean it up at all? Me = image n00b.

Can you do number of kills and number of deaths as well? I.e. different stat image layouts on which you can choose what is displayed?
