Dear Renegade community,

The war is over. After a 3-4 hour meeting, we have come to the following agreements and conclusions:

1. All BHS members are unbanned from BC forums, all BC members are unbanned from BHS' Renegade forums.
2. Both sides agree to leave each other alone (or work nicely together).
3. Never mention another word about the old arguments, attacks, and mistakes of the past.
4. Stop talking badly about the other organization in our own chatrooms.
5. Agree to defend each other in the case of attacks on either party.
6. Clear up anything about the leaking of DA/DS.
 - BC acknowledges that BHS had no prior knowledge or involvement in the theft of the code. BHS apologizes for certain members' making fun of the incident.
7. BC removes and retracts accusation of SK decompiling the DA code that was stolen and released.
8. Xptek has been removed from all aspects of n00bstories and Black-Cell.
9. BHS admits that vlokfboky did not try to steal RenGuard's source code and that no one from BC ever called Cisco.

Hope this helps clarify things. On a personal level, I'm sorry for all of my involvement.

They will pay if they try to use them... according to Black Cell. Personally I wouldn't take the chance. (and no that's not an insult)

Be advised that xptek is still trying to stir up trouble between the two groups. I've banned him as best I can, but it's not exactly impossible to evade it.

hmm, what does this mean? Blacklisting? Forcing servers offline?

I wouldn't chance it either if any of this stuff would happen.

xptek just caused trouble, i dont see any reason for him to be unbanned... Also, i am pleased the 2 communities have called peace does this mean BHS/BC will be sharing mods etc?
