I was playing in the n00bstories sniper server today and it was having a hard time filling up because of renguard.

People kept getting kicked by renguard. Then someone named Phonix joined who didnt get kicked. I sniped against him for around 10 minutes.

Untill it gave me the message that the blazer regulator was starting up. A few seconds later Phonix got kicked for not having renguard

My question is, why wasnt he kicked as soon as he joined like everyone eles?[/i]

That message was because I restarted the bot. I had suspected some problems where I wasn't connected to the RenGuard network properly anymore, so that's why I restarted. Mac is working on that problem for a near future release.
