I was playing in the CugsWorld server which has RenGuard installed. And one of the players there I thought cheated, but I remembered that it's a RenGuard server so I just figured he was good. But the next game he just flat out was cheating..

I know that its quit impossibile to kill to engis in about a second..

Then later on I found out he was a mod and he plays there alot.. because he had 53 reccomendations or whatever they are.

One of the people from IRC came on and said "Is xalterego causing problems again =)" and said nothing else.

Once I left the server Death@IRC said, "dont dis mods or ill ban you"

I'm not sure if this is old news or what's going on with that server.. I'm just confused on how he got around RenGuard and how he can be an admin on that server.. maybe its his server I'm not sure. I just thought I'd share with the RenGuard team.

When you install renguard on your server it makes a file called "ssc_ignore.txt" you put names of all the ppl that you want renguard to ignore in that file. So the ppl on that list can cheat all they want and renguard won't do anything to stop them.

I think ssc_ignore.txt souldn't of been a part of renguard and kind of sux that it let's he host and his/her friend cheat all thay want on that server.

Sounds simple to me, if there are cheaters, don't go there.

That would appear to be one server named and shamed well, with all due expect, juding from that SS, killing those 2 guys with an engi at the same time does look a bit suspicious to me.

And Death@IRC is setting a bad example for the server.

You had better get rid of these guys from being mod or else they will abuse their powers to get others like c0nFuZ0r banned for no reason what so ever.

it looks to me like the maps just started

1 player still loading

350 credits and few points and assuming a 40 min game theres only 34 seconds gone so xalterego how the hell did you afford a $500 sniper that fast

p.s my bad 45 min game (just checked) so that would give you time to grab a box or 2

You all know the f**king cheaters will never admit they cheat ever so I say just dont play there like so many have said before. No matter what questions you all ask they will have some sort of reason how and why they get the points they get and then they just go on cheating.

One question for the Renguard crew.... why have an option to let people cheat if they chose too? Sounds odd but Im sure you must have a solid reason.

One question to you gotwhiskey..... how do you know for a F A C T Xalterego dosnt cheat? I hope your gonna tell me you play on his machine and watch him play at his home and if not then there is no f*cking way you can say 100% he dosnt cheat. Good cheaters NEVER tell anyone. So tell all of us in this forum how you know 100% he dosnt cheat?

Judging from that picture, I would say that the game had just started (40 minutes long). If you look at the time, and the amount of credits he has, I would say that he had been in there for 26 seconds, and that it starts with 300 credits (it takes 26 seconds to get 50 credits (2 per sec) with a functioning refinery). Also, note the player still loading on the top right of the screen and that no one else has and points whatsoever. It does look extremely suspicious to me that he can kill 2 engineers in no time whatsoever.

well for soldiers it'd be impossible to probably kill those guys that fast, it takes 8 headshots to kill 1 full health engee with rifle

Now even if he was standing still from that far away it'd be even hard to get 8 headshots in a row seeing as how the head bobs up and down

But knowing the guy doesn't suck he wouldn't just stand still if being shot by a rifleman So the chances of him shooting one and then killing the other that fast is improbable

But if it was a sniper then yeah it's possible.

If the game was 45 minutes long, he would've had 650 credits, and most likely more than 0 points, and one guy is still loading, he loading for 5 minutes? I think not.

This is how it looks to me:

Gametime: 40 minutes

Starting credits: 300

Elapsed time: 34 seconds

Earned credits: 50

The guy would have to get a moneybox, get 200 credits, die, buy a bhs, run into GDI base within 36 seconds and do 2 headshots.

At that distance, killing 2 engies with a soldier is close to impossible, especially when they are rather skilled. Maybe he found a spawn sniper rifle?

@gotwhiskey: I've heard so many people say "I know he doesn't cheat, he's just good" when they clearly are cheating, so whatever you say won't make the situation different.

but then again if you play with the original picture it does look like a basic nod soldier

the only other explanation is someone changed game settings AFTER the original screenshot was taken to make it look like confuser is wrongly accusing someone of cheating

I'm not just some n00bie who goes around calling everybody who gets headshots a cheater. I just joined in the map, I was about to engi rush with a few of my clan mates and that dude came down the hill with a soldier and owned the two engineers in the picture and a few after I took that screen shot. I hopped around like a rabbit and he never missed and I died extremely fast.. the guy was definitely cheating. I'm not saying he cheats all the time, but that game he definitely was.

I started this topic just to ask a question if people could bypass RenGuard, and I guess the only way is too use the ignore list.

Shut the hell up. I was in that game and you WERE cheating. Don't call me a n00b. How about you guys play us in a 3v3 or 4v4 anytime? IN OUR SERVER. And if we ask for an SS of your Ammo count we get it. Okay? Or do you need to cheat in an online game to make yourself feel like a badass? I for one think it is a great deal of bullshit for you to call us n00bs. Look at where your SOLDIER is. On the downward hill. You were cheating. Admit it. It's obvious. Hope you feel REAL cool for "owning" with your cheats. OH!!1 I remeber I was kicked from that game for the reason of..."disrespect to mods" Fuck you. All I said what that you were cheating. Guess when your in CugsWorld you can't speak the truth eh? Commies.

ghostSWTWhen you install renguard on your server it makes a file called "ssc_ignore.txt" you put names of all the ppl that you want renguard to ignore in that file. So the ppl on that list can cheat all they want and renguard won't do anything to stop them.

I think ssc_ignore.txt souldn't of been a part of renguard and kind of sux that it let's he host and his/her friend cheat all thay want on that server.

Thanks for letting everyone know :rolleyes:

Though, everyone with 1 working braincell could figure that out unfortunately.

This guy you talk about, is he the server owner of Cugsworld?

But what your summarizing there doesnt proof that this guy was or was not cheating so its kinda irrelevant to the topic.
