Nice job banning Xp for expressing his opinion. I thought this community was supposed to be a neutral place in the Renegade community. I read the log and thats complete bullshit. You say you banned him because he's a "slime ball" even though this ban just happened to be right when he was arguing with you. Very mature behavior.

There's more to it than what you just saw.

I don't care about what he did to BC, that's over with and they got their comeuppance.

All I know is Crimson doesn't like him, so if she chooses to post here about why, she'll do it.

Lol i know why you dont care about the BC inncodent Aircraftkiller...

XpMy problem is I try to please both sides. First I decided to go over to BC, mainly to please them. Then the release of DA/DS/BCF to please n00bstories/Renforums members. Then telling Scrumfy about Crimson's lie to please them. Same logic with the jonwil/SK incident. It's all quite stupid. I just need to think before I speak.

As you can see by the story... he keeps trying to please everyone by betraying others. He's a horrible person who needs to stay away before he pisses anyone else off.

They aren't trying to insult Crimson. I dont think you understand how pissed off Black-Cell members were when their scripts were released to the public.

Xp should be banned from all servers, clans, and communities. Hes already proven enough times that hes a backstabber.

Crimson did what was right by giving him a second chance here.

What did Xp do now? I don't understand why he wasn't banned before, for what he did, and is is being banned now. Ohh well, if Crimson wants to ban him, so be it, he'll probably just make a new nickname or join some other community, or he could get an IP proxy like steganos. There isn't really a good way to stop him.

z310: If you continue to allow xptek to post under your account, you will join him in being banned.

He continues to piss people off, then apologize, and I'm sick of it. He can come back here when he decides to grow up and think before he speaks. End of discussion.
