I had that problem, but it was such a long time ago I forgot how to fix it. I think I just reset the cookies and tried again.

I always had that problem, but then I switched to Opera.

I like Opera, but I can't watch quicktime movies on it, it always says DOWNLOAD PLUGIN, and sends me to quicktime's site, but I have quicktime installed, and it runs fine on Internet Explorer. Plus, I can't use google image search on opera. It always redirects me to somewhere through <http://www.safe-site.com/>

Copy ntqtplugin.dll to the operaxx/Plugins directory.

Try using the URL renegadeforums.com instead of renforums.com? I don't have a problem on any of the computers I use to access the site.

I use Renegadeforums.com

I've fixed it now.. I deleted all the files from my "Temp. Files" and deleted all my Cookies, also cleared my History.

All fixed

Thanks for the suggestion zunnie.
