Because you registered the nickname with brenbot, doh.

Type !auth YourNickName [enter] in the channel where your brenbot is when you join the server.

And another important note:

RTFRM (Read The Fucking ReadMe)

I tried all that you said, and it still asks me to authenticate when I join. So any other ideas?

You MUST authenticate on IRC.

You cannot !auth yourself from in-game , it would not be much of a protection if that was possible.....

Thats what it is suppose to do. It's to stop people using your name, so it would be pointless if it only asked you once. Just do what I did and make an mIRC script to do it when it knows its you playing.
