I guess now you can host irc servers on sm box as long it doesn't connect to big networks.

I still won't host a server on an SM box since they don't tolerate DDoS against IRC (but DDoS against any OTHER port is OK)... I still have a tendency to be attacked once in a while.

But now I don't have to worry about my brenbots. This should make everyone happy.

Guess SM isn't the idiots I accused them of being if they banned bots.

they just realized their is money to be made in the irc buisness. you could also run the irc server on a differnt port, not the vanilla 6667 or 7000

- 1) Rename BRenBot.exe to something weird.. such as blahblah.exe..
- 2) Make it connect to a weird port.. such as 5691.

Boom.
