Xtrm2MattRemove the scripts.dll?

I don't see why a :rolleyes: is needed for that. It's a perfectly good comment and good instructions on how to fix your problems. :rolleyes:

It was the BHS.dll, not the new Scripts.dll, that was causing the first crashing , there must still be a problem with it for some people.

SKs DLL is incompatable with the new Scripts.dll, unfortunatly :/

It's a good idea

An easier way to solve your problem is to just re-install Renegade.

Why is he a moron? Its a legit and smart statement. I, for one, don't use any skins or mods and I don't believe me renegade's ever crashed unless I got 5-15 other applications running on the background.

Yeah, and if you choose not to use the latest release of scripts.dll, you'll be missing out on a lot, especially with the latest release of SSAOW and its support for bhs.dll, and some servers already running it. If you used scripts.dll 1.9.1 or higher, and you played in a server using the SSAOW mod, you'd get these extras:

[list]

- * Buildings report when they are fully repaired.
- * Buildings report when their destruction is imminent.
- * Turrets report when they are under attack.
- * The Harvesters report when they are under attack.

- * The Obelisk charge up sound.
  - * The Cargo Plane's engine sounds.
  - * EVA reports on vehicle destruction,
  - * Players scream when killed. (Female characters have a female
  - * Spawn and Weapon sound effects for when a player spawns or when a dropped weapon is created.
  - * Fog that does not hamper your field of vision in the random weather. (I personally love this, it makes the game look so much better)
- [/list:u]

I've got several texture replacements, I've temporarily changed some stuff in Renegade, and I have a lot of test levels from Swmod, and Renegade does not crash. I totally disagree to the fact that addons/replacements for Renegade will screw it up.
