I was just banned from n00bstories IRC for "xptek". Anyone care to provide some details or something?

Honestly, I don't think Scamp is xptek. He very well could be, but Scamp's mannerisms are nothing like xptek's. That's just my observation, but I could be wrong.

*@xxxxxxx.cpe.cableone.net 0 50969 beanyhead!beany@your.moms.house.com "xptek has been removed from all aspects of n00bstories and black-cell." refer to:
<http://ircd2.lomag.net/~wtdragon5/forum/index.php?showtopic=1839> for details.

An informant told me that there's a 99% chance you're xptek. Not going to say who, but it's someone who I trust.

How are you even connecting me to xptek? I only learned about the guy two days ago and now I'm him? I'd really like to see where this informant got his information...

I've been told that you were on specific channels that xptek idles in. Your posts look identical to xptek's... as well as other points that this person made.

umm.. the only channels I really idle in are server channels and a few chat channels. I don't see the reason that someone with similar chat habits should be banned from an entire network.

so anyone on black-cell, UGIN, and n00bstories at the same time should be banned? that really doesn't make sense...

there's probably several people that do the same...

No, but it's a damn coincidence, along with everything else. You're not getting unbanned from me, I'm sorry. I've been told you're banned from Black-Cell as well. If Crimson feels the need to unban you, then let her.

I idle on UGIN and NS. I don't go to BC on account of I really don't care to. He's not xptek. xptek idles on a lot more channels than Scamp did. He's not banned from UGIN. Well Scamp, you asked me last week which was the best network to be a part of. Now I guess you don't have much of a choice. :\

Another difference I would like to point out, didnt Xptek argue alot? Abviously Scamp doesn't, he even Im-ed Jake to tell him to stop arguing before.

Yeah, but why would you join a forum and start arguing from day one? that's really the way to go dude.. and it's not like you can't idle in less channels to appear less suspicious. personally, I'd stay out of mIRC altogether.

In any case, there always comes a time where people realise they're not wanted and leave of their own accord. same applies to people smurfing on different names. it's never the same as just being yourself.

Quote:Well Scamp, you asked me last week which was the best network to be a part of.

i'm not about to go into the detective side of things but if this guy I Med you then he must know you somehow. so where on the www did you meet scamp?
