Is anyone else have trouble exiting Renegade after applying SP2? When I hit exit, the game just sits there. Eventually game2.exe (I use renguard) crashes and I click OK. Not really a big deal per se, but annoying.

Thanks.

Try running your game at the same resolution as your desktop. Never used XP but winME sometimes has problems quitting the game on a different resolution, and control can only be regained by having ran the game in windowed mode (you get to see the "program has caused an error" message and click close) or hitting the shut down button on your computer. I think it's a memory problem
