Well, I made this a little earlier today because I got bored, it's a PHP based mail bomber. You can bomb any e-mail address you want, with any e-mail address you want, and you can have it send it as many times as you want.
(warranto says: bye bye link)

I don't know what other people would use this for, but I felt like making it so I could bomb a couple annoying people and decided to let everyone else use it as well. Also, if there is a bug, or soemthing you would liek added, changed, or whatever, just post it here.

PS. If you could, please click the ads at the bottom, THANK YOU!

Why? I don't exactly want to give out everything I make to people . . . It's all done in PHP so you don't need to worry about downloading anything and it turning out to be a virus, it runs straight from your web browser. Just tell me why you want the source, and I might post it, or some of it. . .

I actually wanted to see if you were using sendmail. If so good luck. You'll need it.

//Lets start bombing!
 mail($email_address, $subject, $message, "From: $from_name<$from_email>\nX-Mailer: PHP/" .
phpversion());

That's the code to send it. . . . what's wrong with sendmail, I've never heard of sendmail before. . .

Ohh, I dunno if I'm using sendmail or not, but I don't think so. My server seems to be doing fine so far. . . No problems yet as far as I can tell. The reason I didn't know what mail bomber was is because I didn't set up my server, my dad did that, and I thought maybe you meant a sendmail function in PHP or something, so I was kinda confused . . .

This is terrible. Why would you want to do something like this?

Stuff like this I do not accept. Whether it is DoSing programs to be used against "those who deserve it", mail bombs, Forum spammers, etc.
