I need to find a web hosting site (must be free) that will allow me to upload any file type with a generous amount of hosting and unlimited links, pages, and files until space runs out. Can someone help?

http://127.0.0.1

best web hosting on the market, and you can do whatever you want on the site.

For anyone who doesn't know what Dante mean, he means set up your own webhost, and host yourself. All you need is a few hours of time, an internet connection, and old computer and Linux. I like debian. <http://www.debian.com>

Use this:

<http://www.appservnetwork.com/>

Since I'm assuming you dont know anything about setting up a server just use app serv. It installs apache, mysql, php and phpmyadmin. Theres an option in the installer to just install general or something like that.

You dont even need to uninstall windows. it works with it.

I'm running it right now on my server:

<http://www.webdummy.net>

<http://generation-x.uni.cc>

all that kind of stuff works(virtual hosts).
