Hi there guys and girls, this is my first post ever here. I didnt see an introduction bit so ill just say hi first and tell you that im part of oxi and zunnies Fanmaps clan.

That said il say what i really wanted to say.....

I have recently created a server on renegade using FDS and have a mirc channel on n00bstories.com called #FMreborn-FDS, i have renguard running and am using brenbot 1.35.

BTW nice one on renguard guys that totally kicks ass (cheater ass that is)

Now heres the thing, i have bhs.dll client side and when i join a bhs.dll supported server it totally rules, however i want to run this server side too, and have a bhs.dll support FDS. I have tried allot to get this working, i have browsed these forums and many others and asked allot of people for help (no one ever helps me in #bhs_support or #n00bstories) i have registered on that mantis thing but dont know whether this is the right place to go as all the issues there seem to be about bugs.

So is there anyone here who can tell me how to enable is simple terms (im an idiot so please explain s l o w l y) bhs.dll support on my server, i have the 1.9.1 scripts and the public bhs.dll thing i just cant seem to work out where im supposed to put everything, any help would be really appreciated.

I will check here for posts but what im really looking for is someone who knows what there doing to take remote of my server and sort it out for me, i know this is asking allot but it really would be appreciated my msn is FM_reborn@hotmail.com and my irc channel is #FMreborn-FDS ive tried replacing the scripts and stuff and placing the bhs.dll in the fds folder and all that but i just am at a loss now! <sigh> please help.....
thanks in advance

i installed the 1.9.1 scripts and everything else into c:\westwood\renegadeFDS and there was no change, there was no mist and all that stuff and no extra eva voices, so i then installed it into c:\westwood\renegadeFDS\server still no difference, so then i installed into c:\westwood\renegadeFDS\server\data and still no difference, i restarted the computer each time and saved everything, i really think i am missing something, i know most of you are thinking what a n00b but i have tried allot to get this to work, im not being lazy, would someone who knows what they are doing take remote of my comp and sort this out for me please...?

To see big changes you need to load ssaow into the fDS. Then configure it. Then extract the BHS scripts 1.9.1 into your renegade directory on your client. Don't forget to rename the original scripts.dll folder in the renegade directory to scripts2.dll ok ok ok, heres what i have done.....

I have deleted my FDS folder and reinstalled it, i have made it see my irc channel but other than that it is a fresh install, i installed all the files for bhs.dll and the scripts to c:\westwood\renegadeFDS\server and i have also put a mod "objects" into the c:\westwood\renegadeFDS\server\data folder, when i load the FDS it now doesnt list on WOL, however when i take the objects folder out it does list on WOL. Please someone help me, i cant keep asking zunnie coz i bug him enough allready and hes been very patient try to sort it out for me, but he is very busy. Would someone mind taking remote of my computer and seeing whats going on for me please? It really would be appreciated allot
