Chronojam is an admin of the RenAlert forums. He was recently kicked from my public servers for lag killing, which is clearly laid down as against the rules. He was allowed on the condition that he stop lag killing. Today he was caught in the act again, and after insulting some of our mods who were telling him to stop lag killing, he was temp-banned. In response, he banned me from the RenAlert forums.

His "argument" for banning me is all down to one comment I made on the RenAlert forums. That comment was: "You are nowhere near correct". If that counts as a bannable offence, then I humbly accept this suspension and admit that I am in the wrong. However, I wonder if everyone else will see this situation as I do: He broke our server rules, he got JUSTIFIABLY kicked, and he banned me from his forums in revenge because he couldn't handle being proved wrong.

I think he's the web master or somethin btw from what you're saying that sounds pretty unfair

Unless your accusations were false that is...

Lag killing is when you're killing people who are lagging into your base or right in front of you, giving them no chance at all. For example, killing someone who is on the other side of the level, but (on your screen) lagged to your side and you killing them.

All I can say is I hope this doesn't end up in the shut down of NoN00bs's RenAlert server....

Please, both of you resolve your problems before anything worse than Spoony's ban is done....

I'm not going to shutdown my RenAlert server over this.

Hydra speaks wise words, so as a peace offering, I just allowed Chronojam. I don't know whether he'd like to return to our server, I couldn't care less to be honest, but the ban is lifted.

I'm posting this in lieu of Chronojam, who's busy right now.

Spoonny was suspended (not banned) from the Renegade Alert forums for reviving a very ugly topic where he and members of our forum argued over the validity of hiding behind objects ingame. Spoonny was the plaintiff. Chronojam said to not revive the thread, but didn't bother locking it, and Spoonny did so, resulting in a one-week suspension from the Renegade Alert forums. Chronojam denies the suspension having anything to do with being kicked from Non00bs.net, and has himself posted screenshots at Non00bs.net (although I haven't seen them myself) to prove his innocence. Chronojam adds that if ANYONE had revived the topic, ie. the other parties involved, they would have also received a one-week suspension.

A link to the offending topic:

<http://dynamic6.gamespy.com/~renalert/forum/index.php?showtopic=4560>

Chronojam would also like to add that he's glad that Spoonny stopped PMing him ingame, although it was only because Chronojam disabled pages in Renegade. Spoonny can return to the forums in a week if he wishes to do so.

Oh, one other thing. I was about to explain why Ryan3k was kicked today, but obviously I am unable to do this on the RenAlert forum, thanks to Chronojam's lack of common sense. If Ryan is unclear...

From the official N00bstories RenAlert server rules.

k) Do not tip over vehicles by ramming them onto their sides. Ex. Using a Longbow to tip over the Soviet Ore Truck or bumping over a V2 with a Ranger.

You could have at least replied here (I saw you were logged into the n00bstories forums soon after I posted this thread) :: <http://www.n00bstories.com/phpBB/viewtopic.php?t=3659>

...As opposed to posting this in THESE forums. Everyone knows I wasn't registered here... UNTIL NOW.

I also love how I paged you ex post facto, in-game, and you did not reply to me.

That link explains everything that went down, so don't bother replying here or there until you read the entire thread fully, please. You wouldn't believe how pissed off I am that you !kicked me, as opposed to a !qkick, then ignored me when I tried to contact you (I thought it was either you or Hamtaro75 that kicked me.) How utterly treacherous.

For anyone too lazy to read the thread ::

The reason I am at the angle behind the tipped V2 was because I was trying to bump it back onto its wheels after I accidentally hit it AS IT WAS LEAVING THE WAR FACTORY. In retrospect, it would probably never have worked. But if you think how I continued to bump it after it was already tipped over somehow proves me guilty, that is an insult to my intelligence; there's no point in continuing to bump V2 on its side, UNLESS YOU ARE PERHAPS TRYING TO FREE IT. I notice how you conveniently omitted a screenshot of me saying "SH*T!" right after I initially knocked over the V2...(check the chatlogs). It makes a lot of sense to use a !kick in a situation that was clearly an accident, as opposed to, perhaps, a !qkick?

However, Spoony, I must congratulate you. I was unaware that you were perfect and completely incapable of tipping over a vehicle in an accident, or breaking any server rules on accident, for that matter. Please, give me some pointers, sometime. Just don't !n00b me if I take cover in a firefight.

Consider yourself allowed back into the server.

Of all people to get !kicked for a first offence and not !qkicked... :rolleyes:

If I "accidentally" broke a server rule, the last thing I'd do is bitch at a moderator who kicked me for it... it's my fault for being careless, not his fault for trying to uphold the rules.

But at the same time, a player who regularly plays on the server for months and is often a temp moderator should not be temp-banned for one offence when the biggest reason they've been !qkicked for was 'making room'. If you want to discuss this further then there's a place for it spoony, otherwise I consider it all finished and sorted... it shouldn't have been brought here in the first place.
