I need a free program that lets me put a movie clip from my HD to a DVD. I have DVDXCOPY, but the browse function that lets me do that won't work :S

You'll have to check and see if you're drive is supported but:

It's all I use, but I don't have a DVD burner yet(will they settle on a standard already!) so I can't profess as to the goodness of the DVD portion but it burns CDs like nobody's business. It's faster and easier to understand than any other similar package I've seen.
