Who's actually excited about E&B? Im sure im not. I personally think WW has a great series going on (C&C) maybe they should stick to it, support the community and even have an "UPDATE" hinthint every day or two. Maybe even make an expansion for the game, fix up some lag issues and then, It would probably be alive as ever (if not more) and maybe even make an expansion. And whats up with the TS servers? they keep fecking up all the time and you removed chatting from it. much harder to find ppl. And fix the ranking system up. we may as well play on spy. theres less lag and if we get or act together, us "fans" can maybe show those rambos some teamwork. Maybe we should all try playing on spy until WW hauls their ass together. Afterall, spy has less lag.

Did you post this in every forum? There is seriously no point in doing that. The moderators check all the forums every now and again, and besides a game is a game. Simple as. Play the game and see whether you like it or not before putting it down like you have.

Dude, I have played the game. I got in it March. I think i've played it enough to know what my tongue is throwing.

http://renchat2.westwood.com/renegade/game_results/zaru_individual_stats.htmlSee, look how long ive played...the moderators do check all forums, but, the more places i is shown, the more chance they will see it. [July 17, 2002, 15:23: Message edited by: ThunderChicken]
