Well i just downloaded CP1 and thought i would play the new fanmaps included, and saw that rocket humvee thing, as i dont know how maps are made or anything im not sure if this is possible, but could this rocket humvee be added to some of the regular maps too? Like all of the maps except the flying ones? or something

Let me explain this to you. They would need to either copy the map and play it as something like C&C_Islands_CP1 because if it were just a regular map and then if you go and host, the people will see you driving in a invisible hummvee. Understand?

If not all users have the same map, there will be compatibility problems.

So you can only make this changes if you make a new map (with a new name)
But that means that only people with the same map can play it.

Yeah i know that, but once most people get Core Patch 1, they will all have the new maps

The problem is, not everyone will have the map. Unless you release it through WOL or something (a required patch).

So that means that there will be a few people left that will have problems if they join a CP1 server.....

So we can't do that.

Another reason for not doing so, is because CP1 is NOT a Mod!

It's a patch to FIX BUGS and NOT to change gameplay. (Although new features are being added to make gameplay better/easier...)
