How come n00bs like himself can ban people from the whole n00bstories IRC? Im sure there are ALOT better admins around than him LOL!

This gay punk now prevents me from adminstrating the fanmaps servers. Not too happy about that...

What concerns me most is that he broke a rule, was justly kicked for it, then does whatever to naamloos's computer to make him lose connection and completely mess up his WOL. He's still a "+" moderator in the n00bstories IRC channel, too.

I thought n00bstories was a place where known cheaters and hackers were banned....

Why is that your standardized answer for everything? If you don't like it, "they need to get a life." Maybe you need to shut the hell up and get a life instead, and then while you're out there finding a new life to live you can try and find a decent fucking insult that hasn't been vomited all over the Internet for the last 10 years.

Quote:Crimson won't do anything about it because Khold is kinda like her pet bulldog... There are a lot of script kiddies who attack N00bstories.com from time to time, and when people ddos n00bstories, Khold ddoses them. Sadly, he likes to do this kind of thing just for fun, or for stupid reasons.

He abuses and abuses.. incident after incident, and look what happens ..... nothing.

But, it'd be a different case if I did what he (Kholdstare) does.

I delinked (well, I removed it from linking to the network again after Kholdstare delinked it) as soon as I got online and saw what had happened. As I said on other forums, I am very sorry about this incident and it won't happen again. When I first linked "avast" I was not told who else had root access on the box and I had been trying to get control of the "activescan" bot (as in, host it on one of my own boxes) for about a week.

I have already spoken to the folks at fanmaps and they appear to be satisfied with my actions, so thread closed.
