The Lodingtimes are affected by the Speed of the Harddisk.
I reoomend to make a Virus Scan (e.g. <http://www.free.av.com> ) and check if any virus maybe affects your PC.

try to have at least 20% free space on your drive and then defragment your pc

that could help

btw: if you have an advanced defragment program you should set /renegade/data to the BEGIN of your drive..... that boosted my load times extremely.... i got load times of less then a second now

I do not think it's that i have from my 151 gb at least 137 avible ( or however you write it )

Good idea iam going to try it but i have a other plan aswel uninstal renny instal it then de frag my pc and see if it goes faster or not if it don't
then i can't blame CP 1 for it but myself

My specs are similar and only have 180GB HardDrive, since installing CP1 my loading time has become quicker.

I am having a P4 1.7G (Northwood)
512MB of PC2700

I don't notice any slow down and I think it loads faster than before.

The HDD Ren is on is a Ultra160 9.1G 10000RPM and it runs smoothly and I think the load time per a map has also being reduced as well.

I doubt it's CBP1

I had CBP1 installed and it was fine, my HDD died and I bought a new one, now on re-install (no CBP installed yet) it takes over a minuite to install and I get wierd stuttering and lag. Any other game is fine (ut2004, hl2 etc). No idea why

Try disabling your Antivirus. I'm not exactly sure when I started having problems (Sometime during summer), but my McAfee Antivir frequently causes huge FPS drops and takes up 100% of CPU usage when playing Renegade. I haven't always had this problem, but I'm not sure what's causing it either. It could've been just be a new virusscanner update, but who knows, worth a try.
