Aircraftkiller is right. The game is nothing like it could and should be. I loved the game when it first came out, but now everything makes it less and less enjoyable to play. It was addicting, but with so many new great games out, Renegade has taken the very back seat of a charter bus.

That is another reason why EA need's to give out free CD-keys and make the game free to download. We would have a bigger community.

Face it! There not getting much profit off the game anymore

I say, keep the community going. It's a good game with a good engine, keep it going as long as it can!

I know of another game called Battlezone (made by Activision) that I made a really good mod for. It's a 6 year old game and it's online community is struggling, but still strong. Some games just wont die!

I have been playing C&C: Renegade since the month it has been released, and though I don't get to play much due to my poor internet connection, it is my one of my favorite games.

Command & Conquer is my favorite franchise. I own many C&C games and have played my friends' copy of older C&C titles. Man, they rock!

Despite little disappointment the rushed-out game fares, I never think Renegade is not good.

Renegade is a decent game. I'm not saying it's the best game in the world, but it is one of them.

Those people high up in the boardroom abandon it just b*cough*E*cough*cause they c*cough*A*cough*n't make profit of it.

It overwhelms me to see the community keep going, and mind you, I'll choose to play Renegade over Counter Strike anyday.

Renegade is addicting, you all are here arent you? AircraftKiller is still modding here and you all are still playing all this stuff so dont say its not addicting. Why it is addicting obviously isnt because of the graphics, but its the gameplay that I think we all like.

*You won't find any other game that could host up to 60ish players with 40-80 fps and pings of around 100-250.....Nowhere!

*No other game offers the variety Renegade does with the ability to be many different characters and drive many kinds of vehicles in a countless number of maps

*Sure there are games out today where the graphics/engines are better, but they still can't stream all that extra data over the internet to get any kind of decent MP. Once they hit 8 -14 players they lag out bad! Lousy net codes, 1000s of extra polygons; it's all good but there's a price for SP high quality.

*Renegade to me fits right-in-the-middle and still provides the best-of-both-worlds.....I just enjoy the game

I don't believe Renegade will die easily if at all!

Yeah, you especially can't find that in Renegade.

Who cares about being different characters? It's the weapons that matter.

Umm...RenEvo server holds 24 players and runs excellent. Talking about lousy net codes? Renegade has a horrible one.

I played the game last night and I tried to have fun, honestly, but I just couldn't. It started to get really annoying, and the graphics were definitely nothing to keep my attention.

Renegade's already dying. Most of the "popular" and well known mods are going to the Source engine.

Renegade has been "dying" since it came out... all your words aren't going to make me decide a game isn't fun anymore. It's no fun when I say it's no fun... I don't see how you can change someone's mind. It's theirs to make.

It's not about changing peoples' minds, it's about expressing your opinion and letting others feed off of it and draw their own conclusions. I'm just stating what I think and I'm letting you choose whether or not you're going to agree.

If that is the case, I'd say I agree to a certain extent.

Renegade might be dying, but it won't die so fast. Not in a few months. If any n00bs come by and say he wanna quit, it doesn't change anything. As long as EA at least keep the Ren server up, there are still servers running and people playing. Mods are being rolled out. No, Ren is no longer popular, but there ARE players that still enjoy it, no matter because its relationship with C&C, its simplicity or whatever reason.

Balanced conclusion. Satisfied?

It can do everything the Unreal engine can do. It's capable of handling many vehicles in multiplayer, as long as the physics are degraded a bit. They lag so fucking much right now because their physics weren't degraded by Valve.
