Either 1. Your computer is ancient or 2. Your just stupid. I'm guessing number one but, sometimes that number two comes back and bites you in the ass, eh.

try removing the vast amount of mods you have installed?

i had a problem where the more .pkg mods i had the longer Ren would take to load the start menu

Yeh humm thanks. dont be a cock. i asked a perfectly good question. i dont post on forum's unless i NEED to. yeh my pc's "old'ish" but that's not the problem.. as it handle's cs source pretty damn well n #2 im not stupid either.. if i knew what it was then i wouldn't post.. as far as i can see.. there is nothing wrong. but obviously there is cos it's stuck. next time try and reply with a bit of politness.. we where all noobs once

I dont have no mod's installed. so i dont think that's the problem. but thanks.

oo btw im not causing argument's with my reply.... but when cock's reply with a cocky "i know it all attitude" then they can piss off thanks.

open your start menu and scroll to programs - westwood - renegade and click renegade config. check that the game is trying to use your graphics card in one of the tabs...by the way has it worked at all before? sounds like a problem initialising directX, meaning either an outdated version of directX (probably not if you can run cs:source) and/or an outdated driver set for your video card.
