I have come in website trouble again. Okay, which background is better, this one:

<http://trielite.afraid.org> (Original)

<http://trielite.afraid.org/template.html> (New One)

I don't need people to say "both of them suck" or "this topic is dumb". I just want a opinion, and if you can make a better one, prove it by giving me a hand what should be the diffrence in background? I only see a black background on both.

And accept for the picture of a christmass tree, I don't really see that much of a diffrence.

attention all not color blind people...

there's a slight difference in color, which is better?

P.S here is the template i am thinking of using:

<http://trielite.afraid.org/testpage.html>

The image's were made by me, I altered the code.

No offense, but all three suck. They're horrible, and the fact that you paid $10 for something I could make in the matter of 5 minutes is just pathetic.

If you want to make something like that (with the navbar and the tables) that looks better, $10 can be yours... lol...

seriously, if you do want $10, tell me here so I can think it over

P.S. If you do wanna do this I want the rights to the template once I pay you, and keep it HTML...

I could make something so much better than that in no time at all, but I'm too lazy to actually do it right now, but if I can get cowmisfit or DarkDemin to make one for Apocalyptic Media, then I'll accept the $10 as a donation.

i would rather see your work

Well, because they don't need the money, and since I'd ask them do it under the Apocalyptic Media name, I'd have the donations go to supporting my network.

Okay, I'll tell you what I need:

Easy to Replicate Tables
Navigation Bar
Fits in 800x600 Screens

That's all. Anything else you want to make can be done, like fancy work. My site is a example of the minimum that I expect of you great web designers. It would be great if you could keep that left side clear for navigation bars (tables of a small size) and easy to replicate tables (like my site, a title row and a content row for the table).

Seriously...

BTW: I need room for a 350x75 logo somewhere on the template. If you do it I'll send $10.00 USD through PayPal. Keep it Neutral though, no gaming related images. If you haven't noticed I like absract images in my websites.

One Last thing: Keep it Javascript and HTML... I want it simple.

How about dark blue to black?

err.. can you send that PNG to my yahoo account? glyde_51@yahoo.com n00bstories doesn't seem to let me save it as a PNG to my system, and I find that Jpegs have way worse quality.

Grrr...how the fuck did you talk to him? I've been trying to get a hold of that fucker for a couple weeks because of how he's ripping me off by not fixing our hosting thing. I'm gonna get a refund, and then I'll be able to put that $23 back towards a dedicated.

Coding/Slicing in my eyes only comes with practice. Also needs some common sense thrown in there, that can't be taught!

I might write a tut for slicing a layout and finally optimizing it for the fastest loading and less amount of images/HTML possible.

Now i think about it... That would be a bloody long tut!
