hmm, rather expensive for what you get; I mean a bench with antistatic foam padding to put your mobo on (most come with this) a plastic rail drilled to the inside top and plastic to keep you drives from slipping...

*z310 goes out and makes his own "bench" lolol

Damn it! I was going to go and make some benches and sell them on e-bay for 250.00 each as computers! seems someone had that idea before me.

/me goes and tries to make money by dancing, but just scares everyone away go here, this is where i get my PCs, never did me wrong: <http://www.cyberpowersystem.com> they are a bit flashy, but they dont cost much and you can customize them to your liking.

Just don't leave any open soft drinks, cups of coffee, or large buckets mysteriously filled with water nearby.
