After having played many games on large servers (some using half-RG and others not using it at all) only to see cheaters run rampant while the innocent are kicked, I have decided to create this short video to help educate moderators.

It seems many moderators do not know what to look for in a cheater and/or often base their banning decisions off of popular opinion, which is often completely wrong.

The video shows the most common cheat being used in large servers today. I found it at an undisclosed website. It has since been deleted from my hard drive.

Keep in mind I have never cheated previous to this occasion (except for immediately before downloading the hack in a private server to test its functionality etc.) and the only reason I used it in the first place was to create this video, with the purpose of educating other legitimate Renegade players and moderators.

I am using a new nickname to keep my identity secret (though an admin could easily match my ip with my usual sn, it is my hope they will understand my intention and not take action against me).

Anyways, here is the video for those of you interested.

<http://www.fullerhorizons.com/nat/CheatVideo.wmv>

Note: Please feel free to post this video on server forums (Pits, St0rm, non00bs, etc.) for moderators and players to see. The more people know about cheating the easier it is to stop it.

There are even more evil cheats than those...such as weapons that fire normally, but alternate fire does other things, this way they can pass most "tests" in servers (shoot me in the foot to see if I die etc).

All the more reason to run full RG mode on your server, or to !forcerg anyone who you suspect of cheating.

In many servers that "force RG" stuff is used as an excuse to remove a player that killed the person in question.

This is why I only play in RG servers.
It really sucks to be almost in the enemies base as an SBH nuker only to be killed instantly by someone on the other side of the base while still fully cloaked.
Half-mode RG works nice, as you can just !forcerg them off. (doesn't bring back that $1400 you just lost though)

If youve used cheats online, even for 'educational' purposes then your not worth playing with and are no better than people that cheat for fun. The game that you were playing in that video was ruined because of your cheating, even if you were recording it as something to show people who dont cheat see what to look out for.

The cheats I encounter most are one-shot pistol kills (it's not a pistol I guess, but a laser rifle that looks like it?) and autorifles that'll kill you in only about 4 shots.

If your a mod and you don't know what a cheat looks like just by watching a player in the game and not some video then one of two things should happen

- A) You shouldn't be in the spot in the first place
- B) Log a lot more hours into playing, its not that hard.

People act to quick to ban / cheat. THINK PEOPLE THINK.

This was a good video tho, i was very surprised with the whole having a weapon and no one else being able to see it, thats something i would have never thought of even. The cheat i think is the most annoying and hard to detect however is the decloaking stealth one, thats one of those were you can just bs it and say "WELL HE WAS CLOSE SO I SAW HIM": Or something stupid like that.

Good Video, showed me a cheaters view. Maybe those that want to cheat and would, will watch this and satisfy that itch. NOT.

I would hope by now most season players would know a cheat and not need a video. I would hope MODS would too. The Mod problem these days are imature brats that ban for stupid reasons like trash talking and stuff like that while the cheater is allowed to play on.

Anyway, forcerg is great, if they don't have rg, they should have it. It does not effect the game. Those that say it does, buy new pc's. Why wouldn't you be running RenGuard???? k thks. bye

No. You're wrong.

1. The only cheat other than this one I tested was Final Renegade many months ago in a designated server. I tested this one to see how cheating has evolved since then into more cunning techniques.

2. I have not cheated for a while, I was playing almost "pro-like" because I have been playing Renegade since it was released. It's not hard to deduce what manuevers a stealthy cheater would employ (as demonstrated) onced you've figured out what types of cheats they had available to them in the first place. In case you haven't figured it out already, there's not much skill involved in cheating, so I don't get how you can come up with "pro-like" cheaters to begin with.

3. It's somewhat necessary to demonstrate cheating on an open server to get the point across. Oh yeah, it only lasted about 3 and a half minutes, so don't panic. Like I said in the original post, I did test out the cheat's abilities in my own private server prior to filming the video... but filming the video in my own private server would have much less of an impact on viewers of the video.

KenOf course I wasn't really attempting to be overly sneaky. I only wanted to make a few minutes of video so if I were kicked then oh well. There was no airstrip in that game so I had to demonstrate the instakill ability by shooting infantry.

I suppose if I had actually wanted to remain I would do a few things: not kill infantry instantly, stay much farther away from the epicenter of action, do much less offensive activity overall and instead focus mainly on instarepairing.

1) He used the cheats to demonstrate how a cheater can still cheat in the game yet be covert at the same time. If he isn't better than the cheaters, why the hell would he share the info on how covert cheaters cheat?

2) So, just because he's careful in using his cheats, it makes him a long time cheater? News flash, dickweed, he isn't a n00b who's yelling "OMGF LUK @ MEE KIL TEH PEEPULZ IN OEN SHTO!!!111 LOLOLOLWTFOMGBBQ". He's a seasoned player who knows how to be discreet, and if you can't figure that out, I weep for the future.

3) He stated that he changed his screenname, so that part is useless.

As for the last comment:

- Aircraftkiller isn't the leader of these forums, nor does he carry the most influence, so attempting to incite a response from him is pointless. Also, he doesn't care one bit about Renegade anymore; he's moved on to modding Half Life 2.

- The "others" consists of a few retards like you who can't see the purpose of this guy's intentions, which is to show people how cheaters can be discreet in their methods.

Honestly, turn on your brain before telling your fingers to hunt and peck the keyboard.

There is no other reason as to why he posted the movie. It wasn't like he was showing off, "OMG LOOK AT MUH CHEETZ I R L337!!!!oneoen!!!11one"

I think he did the video with the sole purpose of showing uneducated mods what the cheat was capable of. I wouldn't expect him to be a cheater outside of this experiment, he is obviously smart enough to realize that a moderator in this forum could match his IP.

So please give him the respect he deserves. I know a lot of us can say, oh well I never EVEN touched the cheats, because I want to remain a pure Renegade player, but it takes a lot of courage to test the cheats out and post your results so that people can learn from them. I know a lot of moderators out there can tell a cheat from skill, but a lot of moderators are absolute noob and need help to determine that. EVEN if Renguard is running. I myself hadn't even seen a Big-head screenshot before last month, so it doesn't hurt to educate the general audience a bit.

I haven't seen the movie yet, so I don't know what he does. But as long as this guy didn't ruin a complete game, just to prove his point I'm not mad. We can all cheat if we want to. So Showing off that you can cheat, is useless. Pointing out for the moderators with a bit less knowledge about how cheats work, is usefull.

AircraftkillerIn many servers that "force RG" stuff is used as an excuse to remove a player that killed the person in question.

Before Renguard, people used possible cheating as an exuse to Kick/Ban a player that killed the person in qestion. I think this is at least an improvement, although it won't stop power abuse I doubt it could really make it worse.

Also Aircraftkiller, how can you actually know what a lot of servers do. If you don't actually play the game?

Sorry to ask if this has been asked before, but what does the "super laser" look like to another player who isn't cheating? Just a standard assault rifle or what?

I'm a forum vet. I've been here since the first day, when Westwood handed Crimson the forums. I was here when the first attack was launched against these boards by a spammer who created 582 spam threads in less than 5 minutes. Nice video, I can tell cheats mostly all of the time. If I die in one shot, or I play a game in good old Duel Arena (My favorite map) and I see a person on either team pull out a pistol with a regular infantry and they just run out, I know for a fact that that person is cheating. Either that or their just plain stupid, but that still deserves a kick.

NodServnt, you mistake me for someone who misreads posts. That I, assuredly, do not do. You assumed that he's a "professional" cheater because he happens to use common sense as to how to be discreet. This is all that I was commenting on.

Also, don't call me "sweetie". kthx.

I didn't mean you never played the game. Come on you should be wiser than to think that was what I meant.

But Half-Renguard mode has only become a big use in the last couple of months, while you are saying for I think a half year now that you don't play the game anymore. So either you are still sometimes playing the game, or you are making a statement about something you never really experienced.

This cheat is a spin off of Big Head.. (I would sue if I was the creator of BH!)

Anyway, I make a funny out of things' like this, but yah it is just a edited version of BH... I personally have only caught two people with it.. So you know it is not that widly used. lol (All the rest with that sort of cheat have BH.)

O, and btw DJM I love your Avatar with the AOL support. LOL that is great!

It's funny 'cause it's true.

AOL Support is a pile of crap, when we had broadband problems it took them 2 weeks to sort it out, and it was all their fault in the end. Hence my loathing for AOL and wanting for a better unlimited ISP such as pipex.

But anyway back on topic, what is the difference between BH and BHB? hey both give people big heads :s

SeaManBHB gives people smaller brains.

Well that would be true for the ones on the other end of the scope aka cheaters'.. All BHB is just a smaller, and more dumb version of BH.

In other words' when you shoot into a crown of people you will not take all of them out.. You can time it right to get one or two at a time.

When the laser rifle was in use, it appeared as timed C4 to the other players (and it was). In fact, if you look at the video at the part where I died, the reason I actually died was not by a kill from the enemy, but from the timed c4 (invisible to me, but not other players), which detonated exactly 30 seconds after the first shot of the laser rifle.

default is 30 seconds i believe. if it is 15, i believe the people who own the server changed it. I know it is easily changeable tho because we have had it done to our ctf server (10 sec delay)

Very interesting video.

I'd argue that although the way he made the vid was unfair to the players in that game, it is better for the people who watch it. Even if he had recruited a group of players to help him make the vid, it would not have had the same impact, since those players would have been expecting the cheats. The first time I noticed someone actually reacting to the cheat in that vid was when he healed the mammy from 1/2 to full health from halfway across the map. It is much more educational this way- because that's how it happens in real servers. How are you going to spot a cheat if you don't have prior knowledge about how the cheat would be used and covered up in a real game?

So wait.

Will other players see that c4 you're using? And will it damage them? Are there cheats then that let you just plain plaster a building with in/visible c4?

Will planted c4 thusly look different to a cheater with this particular set of cheats?

to all players in the game it will look like you are holding a c4 and when you first shoot they will see you throw it(it will act and be like a regular c4) now after you shot/they see you throw it they will see you as having no weapon at all you will see yourself(you-cheater) with a lazer rifle. It's funny to see sometimes even mods ingames don't know what cheats can do. It's not hard (10-15mins) to make killer cheat that is 100% undetectable with any damage test or any screenshot test, the only way to stop them is with renguard.

I keep thinking maybe i sould make and release a bunch of totaly undetactable cheats to force all servers to run renguard if they don't want hard to detect cheaters in there servers... But I guess there is a downside to making/releasing this type of cheat, i don't know what it is but i'm sure there are some.

The downside is you get no credit. If you did get credit, you can say bye bye you renegade.

I've yet to watch the video yet due to me being on 56k, but I'm sure your talking about final ren if its most common.

Downloaded cheats are for the true n00bs of cheating, easily spotted and disposed of if you know about it, why the video makes a good point.

Something else for educational purposes:

<http://www.agamersnet.com/phpBB2/viewtopic.php?t=340&start=0&postdays=0&postorder=asc&highlight=&sid=74c2862513ff79001dd284177ad27fdf>

The video on the bottom was made by me, an 'extrem' cheat, which takes the name of 'most obvious' away from final ren. Which brings up a point the video does not represent.

Home made cheats are about the worst thing a mod has to deal with, while some are just as obvious as final ren, or that one, some you would never find out unless you took an ingame test. The best you can do is just rforce any suspected cheater, cheating or not. If they are cheating then you just owned a n00b. If their not then you just got rengaurd another user. With rengaurd, the video is really only good for non rengaurd servers.

When I'm playing in my server, if anyone even looks like they might be cheating, I'll just force rg their ass. They should be running it anyway, so what's the big deal.
