I bought a new box for this site and all the others on this box. I'm sick of it going down like 10 times a day. The new box will be quite a powerhouse. I'm setting everything up right now. Please be advised that at some point today, if your ISP sucks, you will access a "we moved" page for 24-48 hours.

I've been having trouble getting into the forums lately. This is definitely good news.

CrimsonWhy doesn't that surprise me?

I'll take a guess but maybe it's because he has more posts than people than have been here years before him.

Holy crap Glyde.

855 posts in 5 months!

But anyway b.o.t. I think the change of server is great news, I also have had frequent errors while loading the forums.

If only they'd drop above.net as a bandwidth provider.

Savvis for life.
