Please upload WMVs as binary, not ASCII. When I click on the link I see a bunch of text garbage.

too bad renegade uses a forced 4:3 aspect ratio so on 16:9 television everything looks small and fat, like crimson (joke) anyway, maybe jonwil can go in and change this to a free aspect ratio that is based on resolution and not viewing angle, e.g. doom3, Unreal tournament, Half-life, and half-life2 use free aspect ratios that are determined based on resolution, so renegade would show up correctly

We have that in every room at my school, the wall screens taht are hooked upt o the computers and then what ever the teacher does on her computer shows up on the screen. YOu can also go up with these "markers (not really markers" and draw on them. Its called a smart-board.
